

GROW
BROOKLYN
FESTIVAL

GROW BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

Be a part of Brooklyn's burgeoning urban gardening movement!

Kick off the gardening season with a fun-filled urban farming festival to encourage young and old alike to join the gardening movement at the first annual Grow Brooklyn Festival. To be held outside St. John's Parks & Recreation Center on June TK, the event will include participants in one of three categories— urban farming, culinary and technology—who come together to bring greater awareness to the importance of nutrition and access to healthy, affordable and locally grown food for this underserved community.

The event will be set up as an outdoor festival where each table will provide activities (e.g. how to plant your own herbs) and resources (e.g. pick up seedlings to take home). Guests will roam between tables as they would at a market. Join our festival to help empower this community with ownership of their nutrition and health by starting and sustaining urban gardens.

Sponsored by Oxfam, New York City Department of Parks & Recreation + Friends of Garden Kitchen Lab.

grow
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

grow
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

grow
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

grow
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

Be a part of Brooklyn's burgeoning urban gardening movement!

Kick off the gardening season with a fun-filled urban farming festival to encourage young and old alike to join the gardening movement at the first annual Grow Brooklyn Festival. To be held outside St. John's Parks & Recreation Center on June TK, the event will include participants in one of three categories—urban farming, culinary and technology—who come together to bring greater awareness to the importance of nutrition and access to healthy, affordable and locally grown food for this underserved community.

The event will be set up as an outdoor festival where each table will provide activities (e.g. how to plant your own herbs) and resources (e.g. pick up seedlings to take home). Guests will roam between tables as they would at a market. Join our festival to help empower this community with ownership of their nutrition and health by starting and sustaining urban gardens.

Sponsored by Oxfam, New York City Department of Parks & Recreation + Friends of Garden Kitchen Lab.

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW
BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

GROW BROOKLYN FESTIVAL

Be a part of Brooklyn's burgeoning urban gardening movement!

Kick off the gardening season with a fun-filled urban farming festival to encourage young and old alike to join the gardening movement at the first annual Grow Brooklyn Festival. To be held outside St. John's Parks & Recreation Center on June TK, the event will include participants in one of three categories—urban farming, culinary and technology—who come together to bring greater awareness to the importance of nutrition and access to healthy, affordable and locally grown food for this underserved community.

The event will be set up as an outdoor festival where each table will provide activities (e.g. how to plant your own herbs) and resources (e.g. pick up seedlings to take home). Guests will roam between tables as they would at a market. Join our festival to help empower this community with ownership of their nutrition and health by starting and sustaining urban gardens.

Sponsored by Oxfam, New York City Department of Parks & Recreation + Friends of Garden Kitchen Lab.